

As a member of PSG (Project Steering Group), I was part of decision making as a leader of my community and project planning. Research skills by taking part in Cost-of-Living crisis research

The Consultations helped me to get knowledge on cooperation with other organisations in North East, especially the ones that could support Polish Schools in the UK.

By delivering a small grant - funded, project I learned that women getting together is a great experience, I learned what community represents in paintings, and how creativity is represented by women from different backgrounds.

Everything with community is valuable. I have learned about cooperation, confidence when talking to groups, taking part in important conversations about what is going on in the community, I learned how to interact with diverse groups of people and how to give my opinion.

(I have learned) that leadership is not about position, identifying the reason why you are the leader and what type of leader you are.

It was nice to meet other people from minor backgrounds that are pushing to strive and promote leadership in our community. It was a welcoming and lovely experience.

I learned leadership skills and knowledge of how to run meetings. When taking part in the meetings with the Project Steering Group, I learned how to be better at decision making.

As an artist and teacher, I am a leader in my community. With new skills learned at the workshop I can also do invoices and make better plans and take the right steps to pursue my business ideas.
